Change in company structure and name of legal entities

Odfjell Technology group has now been launched as a spin-off from the Odfjell Drilling group. The ultimate parent company for the group, Odfjell Technology Ltd (OTL), has been listed on the Oslo Stock Exchange. OTL continues to provide well services, drilling operations, engineering and global business services previously provided by the Odfjell Drilling group.

As a consequence of the change in our group structure, name changes are made for some legal entities effective from 1 April 2022. Other Norwegian-registered companies in the group retain their names. The organisation number and bank account remain unchanged, while account names will reflect new company names. All companies in OTL have received new email addresses.
